

Chapter Discussion: See No Evil

The expectation is for interpreters to behave ethically. Ethical conduct is a consistent theme of interpreter education and professional development. Countless classes and workshops have laid out the ways in which interpreters should conduct themselves. Interpreters even adapt "do no harm" as an ethical mantra. Yet, what if there are tendencies to overlook and ignore unethical behaviors in other interpreters as well as oneself?

See No Evil is a chapter discussion facilitated by Amy Kroll. This interactive discussion is for working and student interpreters.

By the end of this chapter discussion, you will be able to...

- Identify four tendencies that overlook and ignore unethical behaviors
- Discuss circumstances where unethical conduct might occur and why it goes unseen (intentionally and unintentionally)
- Appraise how to increase awareness during the decision-making process of one's conduct and the rationale behind that conduct
